

FOLKLORE CAMPAIGN – A CELEBRATION OF TRADITION AND STORIES!

FF Communications' Storage Clearance Book Sale – until April 30th 2025!

Folklore Fellows' Communications (FFC) is one of the oldest and most significant monograph series in folklore and ethnology. First published in 1910, it currently includes 327 titles, including many works that have had tremendous impact.

The FFC storage space is being greatly reduced. To reduce our stock, we are having the biggest sale in the history of FFC. Almost all books from 2018 or earlier have been discounted to 2–10€. Our clearance includes 1–3 extra archived copies of many volumes that were out of print for decades.

How to order?

Our distributor is the Tiedekirja Bookstore for Science in Helsinki, Finland. It delivers books all over the world. Just enter "Folklore Fellows' Communications" into the search bar to browse all available books in the FFC series or go to the Folklore Campaign page. Information on shipping costs is available at <https://tiedekirja.fi/en/>.

It is also possible to browse the full list of titles at our own website, but this list does not show the sale prices. It also does not show extra archived copies available for previously out-of-print volumes.

We expect volumes to go quickly, so we recommend you browse and buy now, while supplies last.

Please spread the word to friends, colleagues, and your local libraries!

Sale ends April 30th.
